

2025

Work Trend Index Pittsburgh

We are entering a new reality—one in which AI can reason and solve problems in remarkable ways. This intelligence on tap will rewrite the rules of business and transform knowledge work as we know it. Like the Industrial Revolution and the internet era, this transformation will take decades to show its full promise—and will bring broad technological, societal, and economic change. In Pittsburgh, 91% of leaders say this is a pivotal year to rethink core strategies and operations.

Both leaders and employees are maxed out, but business demands continue to rise. Many see AI agents as the way forward.

of the Pittsburgh workforce – employees and leaders – say they lack enough time to do their work of Pittsburgh leaders say productivity needs to increase of Pittsburgh leaders expect to use AI agents to meet the demand for more workforce capacity in the next 12-18 months

Employees are interrupted 275x per day by a meeting, email, or chat - once every 2 minutes during work hours

Employees say they turn to AI rather than a colleague because

45% It's available 24/7

24% Speed and quality of work

23% Unlimited creative ideas

78% of leaders in Pittsburgh are familiar or extremely familiar with AI agents.

Only 40% of employees say the same.

44% of managers in Pittsburgh expect AI upskilling to become a key responsibility for their teams in the next five years.